California Endowment Awards Major Grant to HARC

Six-Figure Funding to Build Local Health Research Agency's Capacity, Sustainability

(PALM DESERT, CA) – Impressed by its ground-breaking research on the collective health and wellness of Eastern Riverside County's population, the California Endowment has approved more than $151,000 in funding for the Palm Desert-based Health Assessment Resource Center (HARC). The private, statewide health foundation earmarked the funds to help HARC develop resources and tools aimed at increasing community use of its data and customized health research services.

HARC management plans to utilize the California Endowment grant for a variety of initiatives, including the development of a web-based survey tool as well as qualitative research of local stakeholders across the Coachella Valley. Staff will gather data from the network of health-focused government agencies, nonprofit organizations and community interests to ultimately create a fee-for-service business model that will reduce HARC's dependence on outside revenue sources.

Funding from the grant will support a newly hired Associate Director, whose primary focus will be developing those fee-for-service opportunities. In addition, the individual will show data users how findings can be adapted to support initiatives such as program development, funding, organizational learning and advocacy. Ultimately, HARC hopes to conduct data training sessions for at least 100 representatives of community-based organizations and public agencies in the Coachella Valley.

In making the contribution, the California Endowment joins with a host of other major funders and foundations in supporting HARC. Contributors include: California Wellness Foundation; Desert Healthcare District, Desert Oasis Medical Group, Desert Regional Medical Center, Eisenhower Medical Center, JFK Memorial Hospital, Regional Access Project, as well as the office of Riverside County Supervisor Roy Wilson.
