

Approach	Inputs/Resources	Activities	Outputs	Short-Term Outcomes	Medium-Term Outcomes	Impacts	Evaluation/Measurement
What is our approach to overcoming these barriers?	Inputs are various resources available to support the project (e.g., staff, materials, curricula, funding, equipment).	Activities are what the project does with the inputs or the services provided in alignment with project goals. If you have access to inputs/resources, then they can be used to accomplish project activities.	If the activities are accomplished, these are the number of services delivered and/or products provided to participants. Outputs link the activities to products or services delivered to the target population; those who participate in the project and will benefit from the products and services provided.	How did your program/ your activities make a difference in people's lives in the short-run? Months	How did your program/your activities result in lasting change on participants' lives? Months to Years	The ways the community, city, and/or county are changed by the achieved outcomes.	Measurement tools to be used in the evaluation process.
